Shopping among old half-timbered houses

Numerous, largely owner-managed speciality shops along and near the main street invite you to enjoy a relaxed shopping spree six days a week. In between, you can relax with a coffee or end the day in one of the restaurants.

News from the city centre

The Förder- und Werbegemeinschaft has come up with something special this spring: From 22 April to 4 May, the first feel-good weeks in Herzogenaurach await you under the motto "healthy and active". More than 20 retailers, service providers and restaurateurs have come up with health-related activities. During the Wellbeing Weeks, there will be lectures, yoga snacks, happiness books and even a vegan tomato and mozzarella ice cream. You can find out more about the campaign and the participants at herzo.city.

You can also find out what's going on in Herzogenaurach town centre and what offers are available especially for you via the local newspapers or social media channels.

A little tip for car drivers: You can park for free for the first 30 minutes in Herzogenaurach! Or you can hop on your bike again - you can park right outside the door at no extra cost.
