This building was erected in Herzogenaurach thanks to the work of a charity endowment. It served as a hostel for pilgrims and living quarters for the town's poor starting in the middle ages. It was constructed in its present state in 1458.