According to a dendrochronological study, the construction of the oldest house in town was in 1447-48. This end-gabled building with its cornice (the projecting upper floor) displays antique half-timbering and has a wood paneled living room.