

You are here: HomeDiscoverhin&herzo - the Cultural Festival

PROGRAM 23rd SEPTEMBER

On the second day of hin&herzo there is really a lot of variety in our event locations: Trekkies get their money's worth just as much as music lovers and fans of exciting stories.

PUPPET THEATER: »MOMO«

©Andreas Riedel

Momo is a girl with a mop of curly hair and a lot of imagination. And she gives all of her time to her friends. But then the men with gray hair appear and try to steal the time from all humans. Luckily there is Master Hora and his tortoise Cassiopeia! This classic novel by Michael Ende surely is one of the most impressive stories about the value of time and about how to use it. The Theater Kuckucksheim presents works of literature on stage with puppets, actors, music and singing.

LECTURE: »STAR TREK PHYSICS«

©Universität Göttingen, Swen Pförtner

What is the weight of the Enterprise? Based on his book “Die STAR TREK Physik” (“Star Trek Physics”), the leading German science author analyses the Star Trek universe from Warp to Wormhole. As professor for experimental physics he takes a humorous but scientifically profound look at how realistic film scenes actually are. His finding: The Star Trek universe is based on concrete physics. That’s how learning is fun: A galactical experience for all Trekkies!

Ratssaal, 3.00 pm

CONCERT: »BETWEEN THE 80s«

©Sven Sindt

Get together in a cozy living room atmosphere with the songs of the 1980s: That’s what Jan Plewka and Marco Schmedtje invite you to. It’s just the sound of a guitar and the characteristic emphatic singing voice of Jan Plewka, well known since his time with the band Selig, that bring the melodies of Billie Jean, Forever Young and Ain’t Nobody to life again - together with our memories of the 1980s. You love the hits of that era just as much as Jan Plewka and Marco Schmedtje do? Welcome to yesterday - goosebumps guaranteed!
