Music school Herzogenaurach

For many of the families living in Herzogenaurach, the music education of their children is very important. For example, the "early music education" for children from 4 to 6 years is the perfect introduction to the world of music, rhythm, singing and instruments in accordance with the structural plan of the association of German music schools.

Following this early education, the children can choose between a variety of instruments (see "departments") taught at the Käthe Zang music school. There is no age limit, i.e. also interested adult learners, including pensioners as well, are welcome to start learning an instrument or refresh their knowledge.

The school office provides any general information and information about the registration process in German, English and French. On request, it is also possible to provide classes in English or French language.
